Gravis™ . 800 range

Timeless. Box n'blox. Exclusive.

In superbly furnished conference rooms, it is important to co-ordinate the tables and furniture used for storage. After all, it is vital to convey corporate values here: with highly practical storage space, excellent workmanship and co-ordinating surfaces. Which is why Gravis is a box n'blox range to meet these very demands.

The Gravis sideboard is available in two heights (584 and 872 millimetres) and consists of one, two or three inside cores each 1,000 millimetres wide. The mitre-jointed shell consists of side panels, rear panel, a unitary top, as well as doors and drawer fronts. It is available in all types of veneer finishes that are used in the Wilkhahn table ranges. Due to its precise contours and timeless box shape, Gravis goes with all table ranges.

Understated in form, but ingenious in function. For superlative ease of use, Gravis has opening and closing mechanisms for doors and drawers, drawers that close automatically – also with a motor-driven option, as well as a concealed, radio-controlled closing system.

Whether in an exclusive executive office, or prestigious conference rooms, Gravis is a superb blend of functionality and classically modern appeal at its best.

The 600 mm depth does not just offer plenty of storage space. You can also easily add anything that is vital for a conference room: from multi-media equipment, to a fridge, to a retractable projection screen.

For admirers and enthusiasts: Gravis is both highly attractive and fascinatingly easy to use. Simply state of the art. The box n'blox design can be perfectly matched to table surfaces and interiors – for one-stop furnishing solutions.
