Care Living – universal design for individuals.

Furnish with feeling.

The lifestyles and aspirations of older and disabled people have changed. Independence and safety are now the central issues. New concepts such as sheltered housing communities or multi-generational co-housing schemes are becoming increasingly popular.

An inclusive, barrier-free living space, with furnishings tailored to meet individual needs, makes life easier and provides safety.

With Care Living, Wiesner-Hager creates stylish lifeworlds that balance functionality with homeliness. One such example is grace, the new Care Living product family whose design and colour palette convey familiarity, safety and security without any stigma attached. A visually discreet integration of the necessary care functions ensures that the furniture is barrier-free. The design and function improve the quality of people's lives and also provide the necessary safety.

Waterproof style icons.

Care Living seats are resistant to moisture, perhaps from incontinence and dirt. Care Living solves this problem in an aesthetic and practical way, with covers that are removable and washable. Or with covers that are particularly easy to clean and prevent liquids getting into the upholstery.

The power of colours.
To counteract the cataract.

Care Living caters perfectly for those with poor eyesight as a result of old age or illness. Powerful colours and strong contrasts ensure that contours and surfaces are clearly visible. Sight is actively stimulated, wellbeing and social interaction are encouraged and safety is increased.

Sit comfortably.
Stand up with confidence.

Care Living furniture makes it easy to stand up properly and safely.

Maintaining mobility becomes a basic need and a necessary driving force for life. Care Living assists sitting and standing up by optimising the position of the backrests and the height of the seat and using surface textures that guarantee a safe grip.
